The largest political flag ever made in this -country will be raised this (Saturday) evening, at No. 809 30x40 ft. Portraits of Grant and Colfax, 15 ft. high; gold letters 2 ft. high. The flag is made of the very best Enlish bunting, and entirely designed and executed in six days by Hojer & Graham, No. 97 Duane-st.

A correspondent, writing from Mauch Chunk, Pa., says: "I noticed in your paper, a few days ago, that The World says there have been 700 men naturalized in Carbon County alone. There have been about 550 at this Court, and at least 200 are from towns in Luzerne County-which would leave about 350 for this county, and I think we have at least 150 out of the 350. Carbon County will not give as large a majority (Democratic) as 4t did last year, which was 437, unless they have done there as in Philadelphia—that is, have papers signed, &c. and left blank, to put in any rascal's name they can find. We will do our duty in Carbon."

PENNSYLVANIA.

PROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.

HARRISBURG, Penn., Oct. 3 .- The most careless obcorver cannot fail to notice the change that is coming over the Democrats of this State. Men who hurstahed for seymour and Blair a few weeks ago, are now declaring themselves for Grant and Colfax. This place has heretofore borne the name of being strongly Democratic. Now even Democrats say that they fear the city will finally roil up a Republican majority. Frank Blair passed through here the other day on the fast express, but he received little attention. A vote was taken on the train, and the result was Seymour and Blair did not receive 15 per cent of the votes cast. The city limits of Harrisburg have been extended since the last election, taking in several machine-shops, and nearly every man opgaged in them will vote the Republican ticket. This, with other changes, it is said will give the city a majority for Grant and Coffax. The Republicans are very confident of success, and they are using every effort to keep up the political revivals, at which many Democrats have been converted. Coming to town on the cars the other day I was quite amused at a gentlemen sitting in the same seat with me. He had no doubt but what Seymour would be elected by an overwhelming majority in November. Grant was comparatively unknown, and the people had no proof of his ability as a statesman. To secure the city will be continued to the chair by the Redicals, and E. H. Lawrence and Charles W. Verry appointed Secretaries. On motion Horace Greeley was declared the unanimous choice as Republican Congress in this (Mortier Congress) in the Congress in this (Mortier Congress) is the city with the Congress in the Strict Conventions of both wings of the Republican party met, but, with few exceptions, no nominations were made, each branch desiring a conference with the other. Mr. Greeley was conference with the ot This place has heretofore borne the name of being but it did not amount to much, as his victories were the results of superior numbers rather than of true generalship. In a front seat directly opposite sat an old German who had been listening for some time. Turning round he pitched into my Democratic neighbor with bets and broken English, and soon made him come down from his lofty hights of Blair and Seymourism. From what I can learn the Germansare leaving their old party in large numbers and flocking to the loyal standard. The victories won by Grant seem to call up many unpleasant recollections to the Democracy whenever they are mentioned. Seymour's City Hall harangne and Blair's revolutionary doctrines are rather disagreeable remembrances which the unterrified take particular pains not to call up. Blair's drunken maneuvers are doing much for the Republican cause. A strong Massachusetts Democrat said to me the other day: "I do like Seymour, and I would almost go home to vote for him, if it was not for that villain, Frank Blair. Why, do you know that I had just as soon vote for the devil as for such an infamous scoundrel as he."

THE CANVASS IN WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA-EN-THUSIASTIC DEMONSTRATIONS - KILPATRICK RAIDING THROUGH THE STATE-GRAND RALLY

OF THE REPUBLICANS.
[FROM AN OCCASIONAL CORRESPONDENT.] PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 4.—The delegations returning from the Soldiers' Convention in Philadelphia are highly elated at the evidences, observed throughout the State, of a universal rally for Grant, and are betting high, with few takers, on an overwhelming kepublican majority in October. Mass-meetings are being held in all the townships, at which the whole population turns out, and the enthusiasm brings vividly to mind the exciting days of 1861, when volunteers were flocking in, and regiments marching away to the front. The spirit which moved the people at the outbreak of the rebellion seems to have been aroused with all its intensity, and party lines are drawn with the same distinctness that characterized the struggle between patriotism and disloyalty six years ago. Every man that served in the Union army, and every man that believed in crushing Rebellion, is earnest and outspoken for Grant, while the Democracy only includes those who were our enemies throughout the war. But one question absorbs the public mind: Shall the principles for which five years of war were endured be maintained, or the great work of our armies be destroyed, and the Rebellion made successful? Very few trouble themselves respecting minor subjects of difference, but all are planting themselves squarely upon the platform of "Union and Peace;" and while the Republican party throughout this portion of the State is daily receiving large accessions to its ranks from among those who, uniting themselves with the Democrats during impeachment, have learned, since the New-York Convention, that Democracy to-day only means treason and copperbeadism. Many of the cld Democratic leaders are frankly acknowledging that, although dissatisfied with the acts of Congress, they cannot perceive any prespect of a better state of things resulting from the election of Seymour and Blair, and either come cut for Grant, or remain neutral. The Soldiers' organizations are leavening the masses beyond the conception of those unfamiliar with their operations. Their work does not cease with torchight processions and turning from the Soldiers' Convention in Philadelphia are highly elated at the evidences, observed throughout the The Sixth District Conservative Control Regulation of the Sixth District Conservative States and St ex-Gov. Curtin, who held the multitude an hour and a half. His speech was received with the most enthusiastic applause, and his hearers insisted that he should speak some time longer. This, however, is a section where Curtin has thousands of friends, and they are clamorous to hear him. At about 4 o'clock he retired, and was followed by Senator Wilson, of Massachusetts, who dolivered a speech more than an hour in length, which was instened to with close attention. The assemblage was so large that hundreds could not hear. His speech made a marked impression, and was frequently interrupted by applause. To night the Grant Guards, Tanners, and various clubs are out in possessions, and the town is a blaze of light with torches and illuminations. The procession to-day was a grand success, and the banners and transparencies were humerous and beautiful. It was nearly two hours in passing a given point. Along with the transparencies was one with a picture of Blair asleep with an African, and the motto, "I could rather sleep with a nigger than with a Democrat." Another transparency bore the inscription, "This county is good for 2,000 msjority." The meeting exceeded the expectations of the most sanguine Republicans. To-morrow Gov. Curtin goes to Counsuiville to speak. The meeting promises to be very large and enthusiastic.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9.—A large and enthusiastic meeting of the friends of Irish liberty and of universal freedom, was held at Concert Hall to-night.

Addresses were delivered by Senator John Conness, John M. Moriarty, Brig. Gen. D. F. Burke, Col. Thomas Fitzgerald, Major-Gen. J. S. Owen, Major-Gen. Mahon, Capt. Wm. M. Grace, and others. The meeting broke up with cheers for Grant and Colfax.

CHEERING NEWS FROM CRAWFORD COUNTY. TITUSVILLE, Oct. 9.—A mass meeting at Titusville to-day was addressed by Gen. Hartranft and the Hon. T. M. Marshall of Pittsburgh. This quarter of the State is alive, and the majority will be as large as in any previous campaign, probably larger. Senator Williams goes East to-morrow.

The Republicans of Lock Haven had a glo rious demonstration on Thursday, and were nddressed by Hincks, Hancock, and Kane. Five thousand persons were their auditors. The torchlight procession was the grandest ever witnessed in this section, and embraced 150 horsemen with torches, followed by 500 torch bearers on foot.

The Democratic Congressional Convention, for the First Congressional District, met at Jamaica yesterday. There were two delegations present from Richmond County, one in favor of Dwight Townsend, the other in favor of Erastus Brooks. After wrangling and fighting nearly the entire day, they finally succeeded in organizing, but afterward split and made two nominations. Dwight Townsend of Richmond, and Henry Reeve of Suffolk being the nominees.

On Thursday evening, at the Sinclair House was organized a new local club, to be known as the Veteran Comrades of the Union. It is composed of soldiers and sailors who fought under Gen. Grant, and who made him their standard-bearer for President. With this exception, the club ignores politics altogether as an organization. It is made up equally of Republicans and Demografs. Gen. Francis L. Barlow was elected President, and Col. A. B. Sage, Secretary. Col. J. McLeod Murphy, who served as Lieutenant-Commander in the Navy, and subsequently commanded the Fifteenth regiment of Engineers, was the founder of the organization. He is a well-known Democrat. Among the members are Colonels Peter McDermott, James C. McGee, Daniel Meelan, Lieutenant-Commander J. B. Dubois, and Capt. R. P. Watson.

Jennings Chairman, and Mr. 8. C. Parrisses Becretary, on motion of Henry 8. Jennings, Mr. James M. McCartin was nominated for Congress. Meanwhile the Conservative Convention organized in the rooms previously occupied by the first-named Convention, and nominated Horace Greeley by seclamation, amid great cheering. Thereupon Dr. J. E. Snodgrass was called for, and responded in warmest culcay of the nominee, and in approbation of the choice of Horace Greeley, who, he felt confident, would attract more outside votes to the National and State tickets than any resident of the District. At the recent meeting at Botanic Hall, in another part of the District, Horace Greeley was received with a degree of enthusiasm, and listened to with such rapt attention, that it was evident the Republicans were prepared to acknowledge his great services to the Republican cause—greater, perhaps, than those of any other single individual by voting for him te a man, so that he would hold their together, as no other candidate of his party could, while attracting fresh strength to the Grant and Griswold ticket. With this view, he had worked to bring about this result.

Dr. Snodgrass was warmly applauded, and at the close

Dr. Snodgrass was warmly applauded, and at the close of his speech, the Convention adjourned, cheering lustily for Horace Greeley and the good cause.

The VIth District Convention (9th, 15th, and 18th Wards) met at Lebanon Hall, the Hon, William Orton was called to the chair, and Messrs. A. H. Keech and A. M. Eagleson appointed Secretaries. After the usual routine of calling the list of delegates, Col. Conklin nominated Mr. John D. Lawson of the Fifteenth Ward, and moved an informal vote on the nomination, which resulted as follows: John D. Lawson, 21 votes; Abram Lent, 12. Two votes were given for William Orton, but were changed in favor of Mr. Lawson before the result was announced. On motion, Messrs. Fred'k. A. Conklin, S. R. Kirby, B. B. Dumville, Wm. E. Noble, and A. H. Keech were appointed a Committee of Conference with the Conservatives. The Convention then adjourned to Friday night at 8 o'clock, at the same place. Before returng three uproarions cheers were given to Grant, Colfax, Griswold, and Cornell.

The VIth Congressional District Radical Nominating Convention met last evening, at No. 21 Avenue D. Delegations were present from the VIIIth, Xth, Xith, and XIVth Assembly Districts. As only a portion of the VIIIth Assembly District, and a full list of delegates (11) were sent to the Convention, objection was made to their reception; but the matter was adjusted by admitting the whole delegation and giving them only five votes. The Convention then adjourned to meet on Tuursday evening.

PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL GENERAL TRIEN-NIAL CONVENTION.

FRIDAY, Oct. 9 .- The House of Deputies met at 10 a. m. Morning service was read by the Rev. Dr. McMasters of Minnesota, and the Rev. Dr. Gibson, editor of The Gospel Messenger; the latter reading the Creed, Litany, and Prayers. Bishop McCoskry pronounced the Litany, and Prayers. Bishop McCoskry pronounced the Benediction. In the Chancel, were Bishop Odenheimer of New-Jersey, Williams of Conn., Talbot of Indiana Randall of Colorado, and Neely of Maine. The President, the Rev. Dr. Craik, cailed the House to order at 11 o'clock. The Secretary called the roll, and soveral members, who had not previously been present, answered to their names. The pumyles of yesterday's proceedings were read and approved. The President presented the summary of the Treasurer's account for the General Convention of 1855, which was read by the Secretary.

The Rev. Dr.; Hodges, from the Committee on Elections, reported that certificates of election of cierical and lay dequities had been received from every Diocess in communion with the Convention, 34 in number. The Committee on New Diocesses reported that they had examined the papers annoxed to the application of the Diocess. The Hon. S. B. Riggies thought it proper to call the attention of the Convention to the fact that this new organization had adopted the admission of the Diocess. The Hon. S. B. Riggies thought it proper to call the attention of the Convention to the fact that this new organization had adopted a new and very significant title for Itself—had dought admission under that name to a body canonically known as the Convention of the Church. If it could safely be assumed that the terms convention and council were synonymous, then the new diocese might be admitted but while he was prepared, if the authority of the Church saw fit, to substitute the word council for the word convention, he doubted that any one diocese could properly make the Church had adopted a certain name, it seemed to him that no single diocess was competent to change it. If such a power were conceded to a diocese, it would be likely to cause much confusion; for one might take the name of "conference," another the name "synanguage," while still another might seek to come muder the new title now in favor with some gentered to the domination of the Diocese for Neb Benediction. The Rev. Dr. Adams of Wis., opposed the amendment as "frivolous and vexations." The question was then upon the adoption as an amendment to the resolution of the House of Bishops, of the provise contained in the resolution of Dr. Norton of Va., as above. The vote was taken by Dioceses and Orders, and the proposition was lost by the following vote: Dioceses voting in the negative, Clerical 15, Lay 15. Dioceses voting in the negative, Clerical 15, Lay 16. Dioceses voting in the resolution of the House of Bishops, to admit the Diocese of Nebraska. The vote was taken by Dioceses and Orders, with the following result: Dioceses voting in the affirmative, Clerical, 2: Lay, 26; Dioceses voting in the affirmative, Clerical, 2: Lay, 26; Dioceses voting in the affirmative, Clerical, 4: Lay, 3; Dioceses divided, Clerical, 2: Lay, 2.

Mr. Stevenson of Ky.—I welcome the new Diocese of Nebraska into the glorious union of the Protestant Episcopal Church. [Applause.]

Blue mass and other preparations of mercury actually produce more suffering and death than the diseases which they profess to care.

And yet this corresive mineral, so denounced by the Allopathic doctors, is prescribed by them almost universally in cases of liver complaint, conamption of lungs, &c.

The "Mandrake Pills" are composed entirely of roots and herbs, obtained from the great storehouse of Nature, and their salutary effects will appear as soon as the medicine is brought to the test of a fair experient. Schenck's Mandrake Pills do not produce any nauses or sickness of the stomach; but when given for dyspepsia, it may be proper to use of the stomach; but when given for dyspepia, it may be proper to use them in connection with Schenck's Seaweed Toule. By this judicious treatment, the digestive faculties are speedily restored to their full vigor, and the worst case of indigestion may be cured.

When we reflect that the liver is the largest internal organ of the body—that to it is assigned the important duty of filtering the blood and preparing the bils—that it is subject to many disorders, and that, when it is diseased or inactive, the whole body suffers sympathetically—it is not surprising that a medicine which can restore the healthy operations of the liver should produce wonderful changes in the general health, and effect over which may annear to be almost mirraculous. Headache of long

Bulletin Extraordinary! TAKE NOTICE THAT. TO-MORROW MORNING

the initial chapters of a new and BRILLIANT SERIAL ROMANCE. written for simultaneous and exclusive publication in the SUNDAY MERCURY and a leading London periodical, will appear in the columns o widely-circulated onto an or the PROPLE, under the title of THE BLUE-EYED WITCH; Or.

NOT A FRIEND IN THE WORLD. This powerful story, in which passions that sometimes change PIERCE EGAN, ESQR.,

Anthor of "Pair Lilling," "The Poor Girl," "Lady Maud," "Eve; Or An Angel of Issuecance," &c., &c., and transcends, in doubt and variety of interest, any of the stories he has beretofore given to the world. "Hell has no fary like a woman scorned," and all that the great poet could have conceived of the desperation, the tenacity of purpose, the subslety, and the cruelty of the haughtiest and fiercest of the sex under such circumstances, seems to be embedded in the character of Sybii Havering, the "Bine-Ryed Witch." Talonied, selfish, relentless, and fearless, with a will of iron and eyes that read at a seliah, relentiess, and fearless, with a will of iron and eyes that read at a glance the weaknesses of human nature, she pursues the course which her revenge and hatred angest, without a tremer or a tear. The author has given her a lover who is her cuter antithesis. Weak, generous, honorable, and difficient, he surrenders himself body and soul to the beautiful cochantress, who rules him absolutely, and both as lover and husband as absolutely despises him. But she has another lover of a different stamp, with a will as strong as her own, though gifted with nobler and purer instincts. Him she loves, fascinates, deceives, and finally disguists. Forsaken and contenued, she employs all the "Witcheries" which nature has placed at her disposal, backed by an ample fortune in the endeavor to consumnate her schemes of rengeance. Here smally disgusts. Forsakes and contenued, she employs all the "Witchcries" which nature has placed at her disposal, backed by an ample fortane, in the endeavor to consumnate her schemes of rengeance. Her father. Sir Wilfred Havering, is the fitting sire of such a sires. They had each other cortially, and ent of the warfare between parent and child arise some of the most thrilling and terrible scenes in this wild and wondrous story.

To give the plot in detail would be to mar, in some degree, the feast awaiting the residers of the romance. The opening chapters in to marrow's SUNDAY MERCURY will give such assurance of the quality of the banquet that whoever tastes will continue to revel on the mental sufer-tainment provided, ontil the last course is finished, and then sight to this that it is concluded. It is had to part company with such creations of genius as figure for pood and evil in the pages of the "Bine-Yeed Wicks," or. Not a Friend in the World."

Truly, Flerce Eggan must have a populous brain. Out of it troop the embodiments of all the parasions and scatiments, vices and striues, to be found in actual tips in, all the diversation of shane they there assume found in actual tips in the pages of the pages of the story—out a single page into the pages which charolide their doings a charming variety. There is not a dail paragraph in his now story—out a single guaraing place between the first line and the last. No long diversional gaps break the unity of the narrative. The chain of events is a continuous chair, every link of which has a purpose, and tends to the completeness of the whole. The mother wit of his boree characters is natural, not strained or forced; and the sentiments of his more dignified personages are not too stilled. Then there is a wonderful distinctiveness in his portraiters; and he never tails into errors so common with ordinary writers, of making all his drawaits persons talk in the same vein. The serial from the peop distinctive of them after the corter of them after the ordinary writers, the ergor as common with owners. The serials from the pen of this talented author, seretofore mublished in the SUNDAY MERCURY, have smithar that "The Blue kyed Witch" will prove the most attractive of them all. The advertising public, made up as it is of shrewed business mee, with a keen perception of their own interests, known fall well that targe extra editions are required to meet the additional demand for the UBBAT SUNDAY NEWSYAPKII, created by Pierce Egan's stories, and bonce has advent of a new one shares increases the pressure upon it business columns. To morrow the edition of the paper will be larger by about 8.000 copies than on Sunday rads, and by Monday noon not a singe copy will remain unsold; as that a considerable gain in publicity will be realized by advertisers without any augmentation of expense. To secure this selvantiage, however, it is necessary that advertisements should be sent in an early as possible, as a wast amount of important matter has to be set up during the closing hours of the day; and the mechanical resources and personnel of THE SUNDAY MERCURY, though superior to those of any daily in the city, are not absolutely unlimited.

The combined issues of the other Sunar sheets, onlied by courteey newspapers, have lor a long time past been less than one-third that of THE SUNDAY MERCURY, and the reasons for this difference are sown of generally understood that it seems almost unnecessary to recapitalist them. Their entire hadget of news, such as it is, is bug a meager summary in comparison with the sumple intelligence on every adject of interest to society at large, or to any of its classes, to be found in the PEOPLES PRESS. When the telegraphic lightning has ceased to course over the wires for each and every other paper published in this city on the Day of Rest and Leisure, it is still harrying histernsard to course of the community, but no journal in the United States keeps its columns open to as late an hoon, or publishes in those new as innerdisate, as that which appears under the m its cotemporaries give mere outlines, it gives verbatim reports. It employs expert photographers, and where inportant public meetings are held on the last day of the week, is the only paper to which justice is done to the oratorical efforts of the speakers. Keery indiridual employed upon it knows his duty, and performs it thoroughly, all working together heartily to produce a model social, political, commercial, and
